

Module	International and Intercultural Perspectives on Social Injustice
Semester	Spring Semester 2019
ECTS-Credits	2
Contact hours	24
Lecturer	Dipl. Soz.päd. Dr. Stefan Hoffmann
Department	Social Work
Language	English
Examination type	Presentation, Paper
Requirements	English proficiency at a minimum level of B2
Methodology	In-class, group work
Content / Objectives	Joint international seminar for DHBW-Social Work-students with experience abroad and International Semester-students. The number of Social Work-students is limited to 3 (+ 5 who did their internship in Africa and are already inscribed). There are 12 openings for International Semester Students from different countries and faculties. The exchange of ideas and change of perspectives will help reflect individual perceptions of social injustice. We will also analyze situations, in which imbalanced power relations matter, including both everyday life experience and Social Work projects. The course is taught by Dipl. Soz.päd. Dr. Stefan Hoffmann (Landesreferent ejw-Weltdienst with focus on Nigeria and Eritrea. Experience: international workcamps, finances, project management).
